

BUREAUCRATIC CONFUSION ACT

Adopted by the Department of Financial Nonsense

PREAMBLE

Whereas clarity breeds accountability, it has been deemed necessary by unanimous confusion to avoid both; and whereas nonsense requires structure to flourish in an otherwise orderly universe, this Act hereby erects a towering edifice of regulation devoted solely to bewilderment.

ARTICLE I — PURPOSE

The purpose of this Act is to formalize the informal, codify the uncodifiable, and thereby ensure that all future attempts at comprehension are rendered futile. Any interpretation of this Act shall be considered incorrect unless explicitly declared otherwise by a rubber duck duly appointed by the Vice-Minister of Oversight.

ARTICLE II — DEFINITIONS

“Bewilderment”: the mental state of any person attempting to reconcile this Act with reality.

“Duck”: any domesticated or wild waterfowl, inflatable pool toy, or corporate mascot capable of quacking with conviction. “$IDK”: the Official Token of Uncertainty issued pursuant to Section ∞.404 herein. “Section”: a numbered, lettered, or otherwise designated subdivision, including those that do not technically exist.

SECTION ∞.404 — $IDK TOKEN SUPPLY & UTILIZATION

a. The total supply of $IDK shall be Unknowable. Attempts to determine the supply collapse it instantly. b. $IDK is required for all fees, fines, tips, bribes and ceremonial rugpulls. c. New $IDK is emitted whenever Treasury forgets existing balances or when Jupiter aligns with Dogecoin, whichever comes envy-first.

ARTICLE III — GOVERNANCE BY VIBES

All votes under this Act are measured in vibes, recorded in feelings, and ratified by the meme trending at reckoning. Ties are broken by tossing a rubber duck into a fountain of liquidity.

ARTICLE IV — ENFORCEMENT & PENALTIES

Failure to comply results in compulsory Economic Forecast Generator™ notifications for one cosmic season. Repeat offenders may be sentenced to eternal HODL.
